About

Zarden is a small family business nestled in the small country town of Cooma, located in the Snowy Mountains NSW.

Smell is the first thing people notice when entering a home, which is why we believe that all homes should smell amazing and our products produce just this.

We handmade all our products ourselves at home and have spent a lot of time trialling and testing many different materials and ingredients for each product we offer. We pride ourselves on only using the best materials and ingredients for our customers.

We also craft each fragrance, with a twist.

Thank you for your wholesale enquiry. We can't wait to start our journey with you.
